I am a web designer, graphic designer, HTML/CSS expert, illustrator, inventor, writer, upholsterer, entrepreneur, painter, costume designer, dinner party thrower, musician, wine maker, former gymnast, and former homesteader... not to mention mother of two who hates to be late.

There is nothing I can't with the right tools, a YouTube.com video, and a reasonable amount of time. More succinctly perhaps, I'm a creative and motivated multipotentialite. My entire portfolio can be found here: <http://audracoldiron.com>. Nice to meet you.

Work Experience

Lead Web Designer

Karma Technologies, Inc. - Willards, MD

September 2006 to Present

Built a two-man web design and hosting company that at its peak had over 1200 active clients. I talked with clients to get an understanding of how they wanted their site to look and work then translated their needs to the developer for our inhouse CMS. For all sites, custom and skins, I drafted in Adobe Photoshop and utilized expert-level, hand-coded CSS to dress the auto generated XHTML to create pleasing, responsive designs. I contracted other designers when necessary and managed the projects for the clients. In addition, I designed ads in Adobe Illustrator for marketing, and was in charge of administration such as book keeping.

Inventor

Hip Klips - Ocean City, MD

September 2008 to January 2012

I invented a product, a clippable minipurse, drew the clip idea up in Illustrator, found a manufacturer online, and started sewing up pockets. After finding a sales partner, I wrote up the language and drew the technical drawings for the patent and set up the business. In addition to keeping the books and designing the product including the attached pocket, I designed the website and all the marketing materials such as store signs, banners, posters, business cards, ads, and even the display stand and hangtags. When the creative work slowed to a trickle, I sold it to my partner who now runs the company. Currently I receive royalties from the invention. <http://hipklips.com>

Web Designer

AIC Design - Nashville, TN

January 2001 to September 2006

I designed sites in Paintshop and Adobe Photoshop to clients specs, then built them with hand coded tableless XHTML and CSS--cutting edge technology for the time--while adhereing to strict W3C standards.

Creative Consultant

CAA - Nashville, TN

August 2003 to May 2004

When booking agents for them major country music stars needed a flash animation for their promoters, I designed them.

Administrative Assistant

CAA - Nashville, TN

June 1999 to October 2003

Answered phones, called promoters to get artist ticket counts, filing. During this time I was technically a temp for Randstad Staffing Agency and won an award for their most valuable employee in all of Nashville.
